

CONTRIBUTORS

PROFESSOR ADAM FUERSTENBERG — teaches in the English Department at Ryerson Polytechnical Institute, studied at Sir George Williams University, State University of New York and Hebrew University, Jerusalem. A member of the National Committee for Yiddish of C.J.C. and of the Executive Committee, Central Region, he is presently working on a study of Jewish folklore influence on the poetry of A. M. Klein.

DR. MORTY M. LAZER — is co-director, Jewish Ethnic Identity in Atlantic Canada Project. He has written and published in the fields of ethnic relations (particularly Jews in Atlantic Canada) and the sociology of religion. Dr. Lazar is now living in Israel.

DR. SHEVA MEDJUCK — is co-director, Jewish Ethnic Identity in Atlantic Canada Project. She is assistant professor of Sociology at Mount Saint Vincent University, Halifax, and chairs the Department of Sociology/Anthropology. She has written and published work on Nineteenth-Century New Brunswick, and on Jews in Atlantic Canada.

MEL STARKMAN — holds degrees in history from the University of Toronto and has served as an archivist at the Archives of Ontario and at the University of Toronto Archives. He is currently doing free-lance research.